LEADERSHIP PROGRAMS

World-class, place-based leadership development for all Tasmanians

ABOUT TASMANIAN LEADERS

Tasmanian Leaders® is Tasmania's premier leadership development organisation.

For almost two decades, Tasmanian Leaders has strengthened the State's leadership capacity by developing people who can navigate complexity, work across boundaries, and create positive change.

We design and deliver leadership development that is deeply connected to place but informed by global thinking. Our programs are grounded in contemporary research and evidence-based practice, equipping leaders with the mindsets and capabilities needed to thrive in uncertainty, strengthen community resilience, and drive long-term impact.

No organisation understands leadership in the Tasmanian context better than us.

Across our flagship Tasmanian Leaders Program, the I-LEAD suite, and our open enrolment programs, we provide world-class learning experiences that expand personal capacity and build collective capability across every region and sector.

Our alumni network spans 1,000 graduates, many of whom are shaping Tasmania's future through their influence, innovation and service. Through our social impact initiatives, we leverage this network to support communities to flourish ensuring leadership is not only learned, but lived.

Whether you are seeking to grow your own leadership or build capability within your team or organisation, Tasmanian Leaders offers a trusted pathway built on evidence, excellence and enduring connection.

TASMANIAN LEADERS PROGRAM

Our flagship Tasmanian Leaders Program (TLP) is a world-class, intensive year-long undertaking for 24 high-potential participants, focused on building leadership capacity and connectivity across all sectors.

Funded by the Tasmanian Government through the Department of State Growth, this program is a unique opportunity to deepen your leadership capability and build powerful, long-lasting networks across Tasmania.

Widely described as life-changing and professionally transformative, it is best suited to established and experienced leaders, or those operating at a senior level of influence, who want to lift their impact and help shape a better future for the State.

The program delivers meaningful outcomes for participants, their organisations and the wider community. Delivered intensively from February to November, the Tasmanian Leaders Program blends multi-day Residential, two- to three- day Linking Sessions, and Community Action Projects to strengthen participants' ability to lead in complex environments.

This program is ideal for people who want to learn leadership while gaining a deeper understanding of the challenges and opportunities facing Tasmania. Through immersive, experiential learning - from industry visits to time spent with community - participants develop insight, perspective and the motivation to lead with impact.

ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM

Leading here and now is about leadership in the Tasmanian context — grounded in place, shaped by relationships, and responsive to the realities of this moment. Tasmania has faced pressure and change before.

Across generations, people in this state have responded with resilience, innovation and a practical commitment to finding a way through. That history matters, and it gives useful perspective for the present.

The Annual Symposium will bring together people from across the state to reflect on what leadership looks like in practice here and now.

More than anything, this year is a chance to mark twenty years of Tasmanian Leaders and the many people who have helped shape leadership in this state over that time.

Join us in Launceston to stretch your thinking on Thursday 10 September.

The quality of presenters Tasmanian Leaders can gather at their symposiums is a great reason to attend. I find myself at the end of it all full of thoughts, energy and curiosity from the carefully cultivated program.

That I get to also speak with a diverse collection of people from across the state at the table and in the breaks makes this an easy recommend for me.”

- Stephen Hill, 2024 Leadership + Humanity Symposium participant
